Easy Eco Tips: June 2026

Take part in citizen science or a local nature event.

Citizen science is a way for ordinary people to get involved in scientific research or data collection. There are many projects to choose from and it's easy to make a contribution.

Invite others to get involved with you too. Here are some projects that you could help with:

- Search your local beach with a shore survey: www.wildlifetrusts.org/shoresearch
- Spend ten minutes counting pollinators: www.ukpoms.org.uk
- Join in with Churches Count on Nature (6-14 June): www.arochoa.org.uk/what-we-do/churches-count-on-nature/
- Do a Bee Walk: www.beewalk.org.uk
- Join Great Big Green Week (6-14 June): www.greatbiggreenweek.com see below

For more practical ways to enjoy, nurture and defend nature, sign up to A Rocha UK's Wild Christian email: arochoa.org.uk/wild-christian

Great Big Green Week is the only mass moment for nature and climate in the UK, and it belongs to everyone.

Every June, thousands of events take place in towns, cities and villages across the country. From repair cafés and nature walks to community clean-ups and film screenings, people everywhere come together for good and make a real difference.

In 2025, more than a million people took part. In 2026, we want even more. Whether you organise something big, join something local or simply encourage a friend to get involved, every action counts.

Take a look at what others have done and start thinking about what you could do between 6 and 14 June 2026.
